RENAISSANCESCHLOSS ROSENBURG

A castle for every occasion

Rosenburg

Rosenburg castle was built in 1175 and rebuilt into a Renaissance castle during the 16th Century. Since 1681 it is owned by the family Hoyos. Since then they commit a lot of time and energy into the preservation of this beautiful castle. Within its walls one can find a fantastic museum with weapons, historic furniture, a prehistoric department, a medieval chapel and objects of historic value. Also the largest still existing historical tournament court can be visited.

Falconry on horseback

Besides the classic Falconry (twice daily) visitors can experience the fantastic Falconry on horseback. The unity of falconer, birds of prey and horse is presented in a very impressive show, based on historical facts. The show is accompanied by the "Jagd- und Hofmusik Rosenberg".

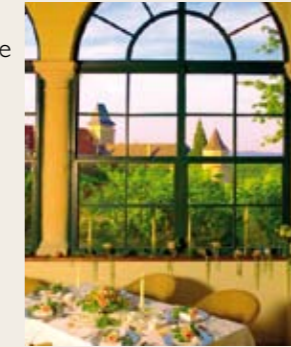

Rosegarden

For a few years now the visitor of the Rosenberg can also visit 3 different forms of gardens within the grounds of the castle. The gardens include the "wall of roses" with a length of about 100 metres, the rosegarden and the "garden of love".

The "Schlossgasthof Rosenberg"

Restaurant in the vicinity of the castle. Come in and feel the power of this place and the peace and quiet it offers. We are looking forward to your visit and wish you a "Herzlich Willkommen".
